

Just like the Moon / Yuval Dayan

(lyrics: Y.Dayan)

*Until we relax,
Until the sun returns to light up our faces,
For now each gust of wind takes me someplace new,
It's difficult to know what is more,*

*Going beyond for you,
Until you return to gaze at me like before,
The winds have calmed, come place your day on my shoulders,
Take my hand,
Tell me,*

*Just like the moon,
I have no light of my own,
From your bright rays I will learn to shine,
And if I am to shine,
I have no light of my own,
From your bright rays I will learn to shine,
In your pure light that washes over me,*

*Here comes the end of another day,
And at the corner of my eye they wait,
Sparks of battle that won't erupt until tomorrow,
And until then, I am neither here nor there.*
