

What a lovely Day / Mylène Farmer

(lyrics: M.Farmer)

*Lying down, his body is lifeless
For thousands of people
He is a sleeping man...
The amphora is half-full
It is effortlessly
Seen as half-empty
Perceiving life on tails*

*Philosophy,
Tell me elegies
Happiness
Frightens me
For wanting so much
And I have a heart murmur
Thus*

*What a lovely day
I turn in
Such a lovely day
That comes to an end
It makes me want to love
But I turn in
So as to live eternity
To the fullest*

*What a lovely day
I turn in
Such a lovely day
An absolute day
It makes me want peace,
To see angels at my feet
But I turn in
So as to make my getaway*

*Lying down, his body is lifeless
For thousands of people
He is a sleeping man...
The amphora is half-full
I still perceive it
As full-empty*

*Everything has been said, for in love,
 "If it is heavy"
 "If the heart is light"
 Elegies go on
 Pleasures, long and short,
 See, my love?
 I am short-winded
 Do you understand?*

*Beautiful
 Life is beautiful
 Just like a wing
 That must not be hurt
 Beautiful
 Life is beautiful
 But I go "there"*

*Beautiful
 But mine is
 A vanished world
 I get into it
 And mortal, just go*

*What a lovely day
 I turn in
 Such a lovely day
 That comes to an end
 But I turn in
 So as to live eternity
 To the fullest*

*What a lovely day
 I turn in
 Such a lovely day
 An absolute day
 It makes me want peace,
 To see angels at my feet
 But I turn in
